Dear Eddie:

It was such a pleasure having the opportunity to work with you in planning our National Sales Meeting this month! Obviously with a meeting such as this, we wanted to make sure we secured a keynote speaker who could deliver by tying together themes from the meeting and providing a charge for the attendees in a thoughtful yet engaging way.

Your motivational session “The Success Essentials” did just that. You did an impressive job at getting to know our employees, assessing the culture and responding in a way that was very well-received by our group. I am confident that we will all be more mindful of moving north collectively, but first agreeing on the direction!

Thank you again for delivering such an impactful keynote address. We would certainly welcome the opportunity to invite you back for future speaking engagements.

Sincerely,

Irena Harris

Human Resources Manager
